-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 02 December 2003 under 37 C.F.R. §1.53(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by United States Patent No. 3,964,840 (Kamelmacher hereinafter).

Kamelmacher discloses an open-type centrifugal impeller for a pump comprising a disc carrier 2 with blades 1 extending therefrom on one axial side thereof, said blades arranged in the radial direction wherein part of the radial length of the blade is convex 9 and part of the blade is concave 7.

Claims 1-5 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by United States Patent No. 867,874 (Capell hereinafter).

Capell shows a closed-type centrifugal impeller having in Fig. 3 (right-side embodiment) blades g extending in the radial direction wherein the radially inner portion of the blade is concave in the direction of rotation and the radially outer portion of the blade is convex in the direction of rotation. As seen in Fig. 3 (right-side) the blade g extends to the periphery of the impeller. As can be seen from the annotated Fig. 3 of Capell below, the Fig. teaches the radially inner curved portion (A) being shorter than the radially outer curved portion (B). The length of A is between 10-40% the length of A+B.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: None of the references on record teach, disclose or fairly suggest forwardly leaned blades in combination with the "s"-shaped radial profile of the centrifugal impeller blades. Nor do any of the references teach, disclose or fairly suggest the "s"-shaped blades having a beveled edge adjacent the inlet of the impeller. In the examiner's opinion, it would not have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to modify any of the references so that either the blades are leaned forward or have a beveled surface adjacent the inlet since such modifications complicate the manufacturing process without adding any obvious advantages.

Contact Information

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Richard Edgar whose telephone number is (571) 272-4816. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon.-Thur. and alternate Fri., 7 am- 5 pm EST.
